

Card Index File of Nevada Mines, Mining Districts, Minerals, Mine Owners and Operators, and Related References (last entry in 1966)

Compiled by Robert C.Horton, who stated:

"In January 1956 I was employed as a mining engineer by the Nevada Bureau of Mines. Ed Lawrence, a geologist and the only other employee, had been hired 6 months earlier. One of my responsibilities was to answer the mail and meet with professionals and laymen regarding Nevada mining activities, past and present. There were no files in the Bureau of Mines except for descriptions of trips made by faculty members in the summers of the 1930s. When asked about a certain mine or mining district the only useful general references I could find were: "Mining districts and mineral resources of Nevada," by Francis Church Lincoln, published in 1923; and a series of county by county descriptions of mining activity, generally prior to 1940, compiled by Vandenburg and published by the U.S. Bureau of Mines. I was embarrassed that I usually was unable to answer even the most basic questions. "To remedy this situation I visited the Mackay School of Mines library during any spare time I had and eventually read every article in every mining magazine and private or government publication in which Nevada mining and/or mineral activities of any type or time were mentioned. Every reference I found I typed on 3 by 5 cards and cross indexed each reference, where appropriate, by mine name, mining district, county and mineral found or produced. It took me about five years, from 1956 to 1961, to complete the project. Until my departure from the Nevada Bureau of Mines in 1966 I continued to read all related newly published publications and articles in order to keep my card file current. "It gives me great pleasure to discover that the card file I prepared is now available to industry and the public by reason of computers and the thoughtful work of Ron Hess of the Nevada Bureau of Mines and Geology."

This information is made available on the Web by the Nevada Bureau of Mines and Geology (NBMG). The original index cards were scanned, as is, into Acrobat PDF file format. Some references are very complete and others are not. Some of the cards have a reference code on them that includes "NBM File #" or "See NBM File". It appears that copies of the actual published reports or documents referred to by the "NBM" number have been merged into the current NBMG mining district files which can be searched online at www.nbmj.unr.edu/mdfiles/mdfiles.htm. The "NBM" reference number is not part of the index information included in the current online mining district index, which means that you must search for the document by title, mine name, claim name, or author name.

Other references listed in this data set may be found at the NBMG Information Office, the DeLaMare Library, and the Special Collections Library of the University of Nevada, Reno.

This information should be considered preliminary. It has not been edited or checked for completeness or accuracy.
